Excerpt: .drunkards, so the patrons of tobacco are disgusted with its victims. The journal of that trade-- Cope s Tobacco Plant --says: Few things could be more pernicious to boys, growing youths, and persons of unformed constitution, than the use of tobacco in any of its forms. Sir Benjamin Brodie, after detailing in The Lancet some of the ill effects of tobacco, adds: Boys get the habit of smoking, because they think it manly and fashionable to do so, --not unfrequently because they have the example set them by their tutors, and partly because there is no friendly voice to warn them, as to the special ill consequences to which it may give rise, when the process of growth is not yet completed. Teachers, who would prepare the young to be manly men, must warn them, both by precept and example, against this enfeebling and...
