Reviews

This is the very best publication we have read through right up until now. It is one of the most incredible book we have read through. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

The pupil leaves geography behind him as he enters the High School, having had instruction in it, part or all the time, for 18 terms. I am bound to confess that I have never had experience as a teacher in a city Graded School; also to bear witness that I have been told on excellent authority that I know nothing about public education in a city. Possibly this last is true; possibly, too, a state of things exists in our cities that makes it necessary to drizzle out geography to the children six years; but if so, then a city Public School is no place to send a child of fair wit to learn that branch of study. I undertake to say that a bright...
