Christmas is a most wonderful time as we think once again on the seasons true focus: the birth of the Baby whose life, death, and resurrection have reshaped history. The reflections in this collection found their inspiration in a variety of sources: Songs of the season, old and new, sacred and secular, from Canada, Britain, and the U. S. , including two new carols by the author A Christmas quote from Hamlet Soldiers who stopped fighting to celebrate Christmas Eve and Christmas Day John Grishams seriocomic novel about a man who tries to skip Christmas Grumblings of a grade school boy who is forced to take a bath Rheta Grimsley Johnsons newspaper column comparing Christmas with marriage A Holiday visit to a bombed-out British cathedral A painting in a London church basement A three-year-olds first part in a pageant A family Christmas letter telling about the young husbands bout with cancer Classic Christmas stories: Charles Dickenss A Christmas Carol, Henry Van Dykes The Story of the Other Wise Man, and O. Henrys The Gift of the Magi A play about men who remember Christmas while they are prisoners of terrorists A few personal memories from the authors childhood, youth, and adult years The title essay is taken from the plainest of tree decorations--a clear plastic disc with these words: Once for a shining hour, heaven touched the earth. The book is written with the prayer that the readings will provide food for your thoughts -- some of which you may need to chew on a while -- and that they will enrich your Christmas. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
