The President drank off his bumper at a draught, and every one of the members in rotation took his pipe from his mouth, drank the toast standing, in exactly the same words, and with the same solemnity. Then followed a burst of applause, and a loud knocking of the table making a din that defies description. I rise, Mr. President, exclaimed the Duke of Buckingham as soon as the riot subsided, to claim that the usual period be allowed me for gaining possession of the incomparable creature-- No; I ll be hanged if you shall! cried the Duke of Somerset, rising hastily, and interrupting his associate. This is an honour I have set my heart upon. I hope our brother will withdraw his pretensions. I am determined to have her, curse me! and will leave no engine unturned to obtain so glorious a prize. Ah, Squire; are you there? Doctor, your most obedient, cried the Duke of Wharton, half sarcastically, half jocosely. You both then are desirous of entering for this race, which I must therefore suppose is open to all ages. A loud laugh from the other end of the table rewarded the witticism. But allow me, he continued, to add another competitor. Even I, the President of the Hell-fire Club, and Emperor of the Mohocks, have determined to take my chance! This announcement was received with uproarious applause. Every one to his taste, said the...
