THE EMOTIONS A Psychophysiological Study CARL GEORG LANGE, M.D. Professor of Medicine in Copenhagen Translated By Istar A. Haupt From the Authorized German Translation of H. Kurella, M.D. Kant, in a passage in his Anthropologic, qualifies the affections as diseases of the mind. He considers the mind normal only as long as it is under the incontrovertible and absolute control of reason. Anything that causes it to be disturbed seems to him to be abnormal and harmful to the individual. To a more realistic school of psychology, which knows no abstract Ideal man, but rather takes men as they are, such a doctrine of the soul must appear strange. It must be but a meager conception of man s existence, to consider pain and pleasure, pity and anger, defiance and humility, as conditions foreign to normal life, or even as something from which...
